Centerwide communications outage set Saturday

Communications services will be down across the Marshall Center from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday. The interruption in service will result because of a scheduled 12-hour total power outage by the Marshall Facilities Engineering Department for Bldg. 4207, the Information Services Department. Centerwide telephones, 911 service, data service, e-mail, Internet service, dial-in access, emergency warning system, and pager system will all be down for that period. During the outage, the NASA Information Support Center (Help Desk) can be contacted at 837-9498. In case of emergency during the outage, contact Security at 895-8156.
